ArtlantisObjects gathers hundreds of 3D objects mainly created for architecture and design purpose, such as designer's furniture, taps, whole kitchens, hi-fi products, animals or plants...

"Everybody is creating 3D objects all the time for its own use : chairs, benches, lamps... and doesn't use it anymore afterwards. I thought why not sharing them ?", explains Sjaak Boer, member of the Artlantis community for a decade and landscape architect based in the Netherlands, who started ArtlantisObjects.com.

As this activity begins, the website gathers more than 800 objects, but this collection is due to expand.

Sjaak and his partner are calling for Artlantis artists to add always more of their realizations on this online showcase.

"Every single object interests us, and each artist has to determine the price", Sjaak says. As a matter of facts, some of them are even proposed for free on the website.

"Artlantisobjects.com is a fantastic place to come and find 3D objects to use in your Artlantis models. It is very easy to use, simply use the search engine to find the object you are after - add to cart - pay using a very safe method - and download. My motto is "Less Thinking" and Artlantisobjects.com helps me to achieve that."
